EXPERIENCE

Learn Anything
Founder   March 2017–Present

- Learn Anything is an Open Source website which lets users search Interactive Maps to Learn Anything.
- The Website can be seen live at learn-anything.xyz. It received great feedback and is growing every day and the main GitHub repository has over 10,000 stars and growing.
- I contributed to the main design of the website building the entire database for the maps and making the search engine.
- The website is built using React.js, Webpack, DynamoDB and Elasticsearch.

EDUCATION

University of Eindhoven
Computer Science (B.A.)   2016–2018

- Completed many theoretical and technical modules including Data Structures, Artificial Intelligence, Computer Systems.
- Aside from courses, I have successfully completed various group projects which included making a sorting machine written in Assembly and making a web application written in Django to save and retrieve user's favourite quotes on the web.
